COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

WEDNESDAY EVENING, DEC. 5.

MONEY appears to be getting dearer in London, and according to Reuter three months' bills are now only discountable in the open market at 2½ per cent., or ⅛ per cent. below the Bank of England's rate; four months' at 2⅝ per cent., or ⅛ per cent. under. Rupee securities have improved ⅛, and the closing quotations for 4 and 4½ per cents. are £80½ and £92½ per one thousand rupees. There is no further change in the leading stocks. Oriental Bank shares £11; Chartereds £22; Mercantiles £16 10s.; Hongkongs £55 10s.

In the General Produce markets Wheat is dull at a decline of 3d. per quarter in Club Nos. 1 and 2. No change in other produce.

The Manchester Piece-goods market is quiet, and there is no alteration in prices for goods or yarns.

The Liverpool Cotton market yesterday closed quiet. Surats firm: arrivals quiet. Sales 8,000 bales, of which 1,200 bales Surats. Good Dholleras on the spot is 1-16d. higher, say 4¾d. per lb. Other quotations unaltered. In New York prices for both ready Mid-Uplands and "futures" remain unchanged. The figures to date are as follows:—

	1883.	1882.	1881.
Total receipts up to Monday	2,418,000	2,504,000	2,345,000
Tuesday's receipts	47,000	41,000	32,000
Total since 1st Sept.	2,587,000	2,545,000	2,377,000

EXCHANGE.—Rates opened firm, but as very few ready bills were offering one bank reduced the rate for three months' credits from 1s. 7 25-32d. to 1s. 7⅞d., and subsequently six months' bank paper was sold between banks at 1s. 7 29-32d. The partial weakness seems only local, as Calcutta is quoted 1s. 7¾d. ready telegraphic, 1-32d. higher forward, and 1s. 7 31-32d. for six months' credits. Government telegraphic transfers on Bombay were sold in London yesterday to the extent of 3 lakhs at 1s. 7¾d. and five lakhs in ordinary demand at 1s. 7 15-32d. Bar Silver, according to Reuter, is worth 50 11-16d. per oz.:—

Bank Bills on Demand	1s. 7 9-16d.
Do. Telegraphic Transfer	1s. 7¾d.
Do. three months' sight	1s. 7⅛ to 1s. 7 21-32d.
Credits, do. do.	1s. 7⅛ to 1s. 7 25-32d.
Private do. do.	1s. 7⅞.

GOVERNMENT PAPER.—4 per cents. have declined to Rs. 98⅛; 4½ per cents. Rs. 102⅜.

SHARES.—Bank of Bombays have receded to Rs. 750. Some Colaba Land and Press shares were sold at Rs. 800. Port Cannings have improved to Rs. 387½. Press securities are a shade easier. Sales were effected of Berars at Rs. 600, Mofussils at Rs. 427½, and New Indians at Rs. 220. Forts, on the other hand, have advanced to Rs. 2,750. In Mill Companies there is rather a weak feeling, and rates in some instances have given way a little. Bombays and Burmah Tradings have fallen to Rs. 5,300. New issue to Rs. 1,075.

COTTON.—There is an easier feeling in the market consequent on the quiet nature of home advices, and inquiry for the moment is almost at a stand-still. We have not heard of any important business having been transacted.

LINSEED.—There is a slackness in the demand, but the price for ready lots remains unaltered at Rs. 5-14 per cwt.

RAPESEED is firm, and prices unaltered.

WHEAT.—Owing to the fall in home quotations there is a complete lull in this article, and prices close in favour of buyers. We quote:—White Pessie No. 1, Rs. 31 per candy; Yellow, Rs. 25; Luskari, Rs. 23 to Rs. 23½; Catha, Rs. 20½ to Rs. 21.

FREIGHTS.—Market very quiet. Orders can be booked for both Wheat and Cotton by ready steamers to Liverpool at 18s. 9d. For London 17s. 6d. is practicable for Wheat, but for Measurement 20s. to 21s. 3d. is asked. Antwerp, 22s. 6d.; Havre 25s. to 27s. 6d.; Marseilles, 23s. 9d. For the Mediterranean ports the rate is Rs. 16-4 to Rs. 17-8.

PIECE-GOODS.—There is a moderate inquiry in the bazaar, but it is freely met by native importers at current prices.

THE message of President Arthur to the Houses of Congress marks a new departure in the foreign policy of America. The Monroe doctrine laid down the principle that the European States were to be warned off from American soil; it was thenceforward to be closed to their political enterprises and ambitions. President Arthur now supplements the declaration which reserved for American expansion the whole of the Continent which Columbus discovered, by the announcement that henceforth the United States "will extend the relations of America with Eastern nations" —by which we are, of course, to understand that she will have a hand in whatever developments take place in China and the remoter East as a consequence of French activity in those parts. The fact that contrary to its wont the Government of Washington has entered into an understanding with the Russian and French Governments to co-operate with the German and English Governments in the protection of neutrals, if war breaks out between France and China, shows that the new policy is already in operation. In the Presidential message it is stated further that it will possibly be necessary to co-operate with other Powers to secure the liberty of trade in the Congo Valley. M. Ferry will make a note of this declaration, which is obviously intended as a hint for the Government of which he is the Parliamentary head. The fact that America has no trade whatever on the Congo does not in the least embarrass the utterance of President Arthur. Mr. Stanley, who has discovered the commercial potentialities of the Congo, is a Welshman in the employment of the King of the Belgians in connection with the International Exploring Society. But he is also an American citizen and a correspondent of the New York Herald, and no one can pretend that under such circumstances America has no interest in the freedom of trade in the Congo Valley. In order to show that American statesmen have the courage of their convictions when determining to "mix into" foreign affairs, the message recommends the reconstruction of the United States Navy and an improvement in the coast defences. With a spirited foreign policy, a reconstructed navy and a brand-new system of coast defences may be useful, perhaps even indispensable. A fine standing army with a big military budget will follow later on. Everything is possible with a surplus of 39,000,000 dollars. It is a portentous fact for the small States of Europe that America should show signs of getting tired of a quiet life. Once the United States proceed to go gunning round, the possibility that they may translate into fact their proud boast that they can whip creation may disturb the Bismarcks of worn-out Europe.

THERE are some symptoms of a saving shame in Calcutta in regard to the disgraceful scene on the occasion of the return of the Viceroy on Saturday last. The Englishman admits that it is "to be regretted by the much-less opponents of His Excellency" that the fact has to be recorded that "an English Viceroy has been hissed and howled at by Englishmen, in the sight and hearing of the natives who had come to do him honour." The organ of the Defence Association has the grace to say of the insulting demonstration in the streets, and the hisses and the refusal to drink the Viceroy's health at the St. Andrew's dinner, that "such marks of public reprobation on the return of the Viceroy to Calcutta are to be deplored for many reasons, and we hope for the good name of the community that there will be no repetition of them." We hope so too. When the same paper goes on to say that "his lordship and his advisers are wholly to blame for all that occurred at the Scotch dinner, and at his arrival in Calcutta," he cannot expect to find that this view will be generally shared by outsiders. The Pioneer, in language almost identical with that in which we expressed the feelings generally entertained on this side of India, reprobates the conduct of those responsible for the recent demonstrations of malice and hatred, in the strongest manner. "We write," says our Allahabad contemporary, "with competent knowledge of a widespread European opinion out of Calcutta, when we declare that the sentiment of the vast majority as regards the attitude prevailing there towards the heads of the Government is one of dissent, fast deepening into disgust. The Defence Association is in danger of damning the Defence." The Pioneer says, and with truth, that in Calcutta the tail is wagging the head. The weight and intelligence of the community have abdicated, and an unreasoning mob is being acted on by leaders without sense, in whom all confidence has been shaken. The result is what we see. Calcutta has effaced itself as a political factor in the affairs of India. No Government in its senses would now permit India or England to have even a suspicion that the Imperial policy is influenced, much less controlled, by Calcutta rancour and prejudices. The pretension to dictate the course of the Government on these and similar questions can never again be seriously entertained. This pretension was never founded in the nature of things. The census in which Mr. Bourdillon's report has just been issued shows that the whole European population of the Bengal Presidency amounts to 12,298, considerably less than that of the Presidency of Bombay, which amounts to 14,698. Mr. Bourdillon unkindly hints that a good many of the 12,298 so-called Europeans are really Eurasians. But taking them at the number stated, the notion that they, and they alone, can dictate the policy of Government, not only in regard to the seventy millions of Bengal, but to the two hundred and fifty millions of all India, is preposterous. Mr. Barnum could seat every man, woman, and child of them all in his circus tent, and have room for 4,000 Baboos in the pit into the bargain. When we bear this fact in mind it is ludicrous to find the Indian Daily News, while justifying the conduct of its clients in hissing the Viceroy, asking, "How, if European and native are to stand angrily apart, is the Government to be conducted? . . . Will Lord Ripon undertake to govern India with 812 civilians and 55,000 bayonets?" If Lord Ripon cannot manage the task without such support as he gets from the gentlemen who go forth into the street to hiss and to howl at him "in the sight and hearing of the natives who had come to do him honour," it is a poor prospect for us all. The best symptom is that even in the columns of the Englishman it is acknowledged that Calcutta cannot afford to have any repetition of the disgraceful outrage of Saturday last.

MR. JOHN WALLACH in Madras imagines he has been dismissed from the Civil Service because he did not go bearing gifts at the wedding of Mr. Carmichael's daughters. There has in reality happened nothing of the sort. Mr. Wallace was dismissed because through a service of eighteen years he had demonstrated by multiplied instances that he possessed paramount incapacity to fulfil the duties of his position. The dismissal may or may not have been in disregard of his covenant or its terms. He was dismissed for the public good; there is no doubt of that. His official existence, apart from his social ideas upon the subject of wedding presents, was one long error; and if the covenant he made with Government forbids his receiving his congé from the State, that is another thing, a thing for the law courts, and a point to be settled on different issues. But it is really impossible to conceive a well-educated civilian, either of the Punjab where they get "heads," or of Sind where they become prematurely insane, or of Bombay where they go mad in the ordinary routine of duty, doing what Mr. Wallace has done. In none of these deleterious spheres, but only in slow-going Madras, could a man attain to such a pitch of unreasonableness and folly as did Mr. Wallace, without being introduced to a strait waistcoat instanter. The Madras Mail, from which we will take the example of Mr. Wallace's perverse ingenuity latest in point of date, was "particularly requested" recently to publish a reply to an article which Mr. Wallace, in the successful effort to cut the ground from under his own feet, admits "correctly expressed the general opinion of Madras Society" regarding his contention about the presents; and this correct expression of the general opinion took the form of an "objection," as Mr. Wallace calls it, "that Mr. Wallace would seem to entertain the opinion that when members of the European and native society were offering presents to the two Miss Carmichaels on the occasion of their nuptials the donors were really making gifts to the gentleman who both stands to them in the relation of father and stands to the Government in the relation of Senior Member of Council." Mr. Wallace objects to this way of looking at his view that it does away with the idea of insult altogether; but he finds it apparently so very hard to make this out that he gives notice that his proof "involves reasoning so subtle that it is difficult to follow." We can safely go further than this. The "reasoning" is so subtle as to be altogether unintelligible even after the most profound and deliberate study, and we are not therefore much surprised to find the Mail in exactly the same plight with ourselves. All that need be said is that Mr. Wallace is still convinced that this reasoning, so subtle to himself and so devoid of any coherence whatever in the minds of everyone else, ought to be taken as overwhelming—which in one sense it is—and that he regards Mr. Carmichael, who cannot see it in this light, as proved guilty by his failure to do so of an "inconsequential and even uncompleted train of thought." "My case," Mr. Wallace less obscurely continues, "is briefly that I was kept in a malarious station in order to extort from me a gift, and that I was dismissed the service for not having submitted to the extortion, but protested against it, the charges against me being concocted."

Now, the state of mind that Mr. Wallace has worked himself into almost itself justifies the action of the Secretary of State in dismissing him from a responsible service. It does not justify the reduction of his pension from £600 to £400 a year. That reduction is a punishment for an offence committed. It is not, perhaps, Mr. Wallace's fault that he is what he is; men blamed at every turn throughout their lives are as often as not the very people who most clearly see that they are justly blamed. But Mr. Wallace has been guilty of no infraction of law. It was a piece of astonishingly bad taste to harp so much on the daughters of the Senior Member and the weddings which suggested the idea of those dona exitialia. Any man but one so consistently peculiar as Mr. Wallace would have long ago given up that plea, and made ample apology to the young ladies as well as to their father. Mr. Wallace is not prohibited from being discourteous to the authorities by the terms, though he is by the spirit, of his covenant; and if the matter is brought to test in a court of law Mr. Wallace may get back his £150 per annum, abstracted from the pension the Madras Government was willing to grant. He will not, however, get back even to the evil influences of natural life we fear he is condemned to form part of the noble army of martyrs.

LEST it should be supposed that we intended to imply in our remarks yesterday that the auditing of the Bank of Bombay is a perfunctory operation, we may state that at the last audit, as at previous audits, all the bags of silver and copper coin were counted, and a considerable proportion of the silver was emptied into scales and weighed. The whole of the securities, whether lodged by clients of the bank for safety, or deposited against advances, were examined thoroughly, note for note, and balanced with the respective registers. As the securities in question amounted to several crores of rupees, this operation occupied several weeks, but it was, we learn, very thoroughly performed. The frauds escaped detection by an omission which, until the mischief was done, appeared natural enough. A number of boxes containing money—between one and two hundred, we believe, in all—were found fastened up in gunny bags, lashed, and sealed with the bank's seal. They were represented by the head shroff to be ready for immediate despatch to the branches of the bank up-country. As this appeared to be the case, the boxes were not unsealed and opened. Had there been any suspicion, of course they would have been opened, and then it would have been found that they did not contain the amount of money which was stated to be in them. Had everything been all right the breaking of the seals of boxes ready for immediate despatch to country branches would possibly have been regarded as an extreme measure. Now that the trick has been played, of course measures can be taken to prevent its being played again.

ENGLISH POLITICAL AND SOCIAL LETTER.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)
LONDON, Nov. 16.

THE Government certainly made a wise choice in selecting Lord Northbrook to make known the modifications which Lord Ripon has consented to introduce into the Ilbert Bill. Lord Northbrook is himself a man of unequalled Indian experience among English statesmen, and he is far too sagacious not to appreciate the importance of conciliating the Anglo-Indian community, whose feelings have been so wantonly outraged by the actual rulers of India. Contrast his manly appeal to the reason and good sense of his fellow-countrymen in India, whose loyal services to the State he warmly eulogizes, with the silly declaration of that most peevish and spiteful of political partisans, Mr. Grant Duff, that the Government of India ought to treat with contempt the clamour of "irresponsible persons," who were only allowed to remain in the country on sufferance. Had Lord Northbrook spoken in this way six months ago, when Lord Lytton raised a debate on the subject in the House of Lords, and had he then indicated the probability of such changes being effected in the Bill as are now admitted to be expedient, I do not say that the agitation against the Bill would have at once ceased, but it would certainly have taken a milder form, and the compromise offered by the Government might have been accepted. But, unfortunately the concessions that are announced have been so long delayed that they seem now to be made reluctantly and ungraciously. Nor do they go so far as the Times seems to imagine. In its leader on Lord Northbrook's speech, that journal says that the native district magistrates and sessions judges "are few in number and are tending to grow fewer." But I cannot find any justification in what Lord Northbrook said for this inference that the new jurisdiction over Europeans is only to be granted to the small and dwindling class of Native Civilians who have entered the service by competition. The Statutory Civilians, who enter the service by nomination, will, of course, rise in their turn to the positions of district magistrates and sessions judges, and their numbers will steadily increase. I believe myself, however, that with the jurisdiction limited to Native Civilians of such high rank, and guarded by an extension of the right of appeal to the High Court, the risk to Europeans of being imprisoned on trumped-up charges will be very slight indeed. A substantial concession is also made in the excision of the disabling provisions of the Bill, which would have put a stop to the appointment of non-official Europeans as honorary magistrates in India. Whether the Bill, in its altered shape, will satisfy the educated natives, who accepted it in its original form only as "an instalment of justice," is perhaps a matter about which Anglo-Indians need not give themselves much concern. Lord Northbrook says that the principle of the Bill will still be maintained; but it seems to require a good deal of ingenuity to explain how the principle of removing "at once and for ever" all disqualifications based on difference of race is to be enforced by a measure which will emphasize such disqualifications by enacting that only in very exceptional cases shall natives of India be permitted to try Europeans. To plain minds the modified Bill will appear nothing but a mockery of native aspirations, more especially as it may be taken for granted that the exceptionally qualified Native Civilians will be carefully appointed to districts in which there are no European settlers. But, leaving the Government to arrange this matter as it may with the Bengalee Baboo, I am obliged to state yet another reason, besides the fact that the concessions have been too long delayed,

The message goes on to urge the reconstruction of the United States Navy, together with an improvement in the coast defences, and recommends the redemption of the trade dollar as bullion.

THE Town Council at their meeting yesterday again considered the Resolution of the Government of India agreeing to grant 6,000 square yards of land required for the construction of a Municipal Hall, on payment of Rs. 15 per square yard by the Municipality. It was suggested that the Government Resolution should be forwarded to the Corporation with a recommendation that the site be accepted, and that, in the meanwhile, a further representation be made to Government with a view to securing the land on better terms. The Council generally were also of opinion that the Corporation should be asked to sanction a certain grant to enable the Municipal Commissioner to invite competitive designs for the new building. The question will be further considered, and a formal resolution, embodying the above proposals, will be passed at a special meeting of the Town Council, to be held on Saturday next, for the consideration of the next year's budget.

AT a special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, the following additions were made to the tonnage scale :—Salt, 28 Indian maunds of 82 2-7 lbs. ; bone meal and bone dust, 20 cwts. ; buffalo horns in bundles, 6 cwts. for steamers, and 8 cwts. for ships ; and ground-nuts (unshelled), 6 cwts. for steamers, and 8 cwts for ships. The following alterations were also made :—Jowaree, bajree, and laug, 18 cwts. for steamers, and 20 cwts for ships ; mussoor (in bags), 20 cwts. ; mowra flowers, 18 cwts. for steamers, and 20 cwts. for ships ; and rice, 18 cwts. for steamers, and 20 cwts. for ships.

MR. SIDNEY BLANCHARD, who will be remembered in Bombay in connection with the Times of India and the Indian Statesman, is dead.

A HORSE fair is to be held at Ahmedabad on the 15th January. Mrs. E. V. Mackay has undertaken the duties of Honorary Secretary.

IT should have been stated in our account of the journey of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught from Bombay to Meerut that the arrangements on the B. B. and C. I. Railway from Parel to Ahmedabad were carried out under the personal superintendence of Mr. Duxbury, traffic manager. On the Rajputana-Malwa Railway, from Ahmedabad to Delhi, the special train was in charge of Mr. Dangerfield, the manager, and Mr. O'Callaghan, the traffic superintendent ; while the credit for the excellent arrangements in connection with the departure of the Duke and Duchess from Ahmedabad, and their reception at Pahlanpore and the intervening stations, is due to Mr. Vining. From Delhi to Meerut the special train conveying Their Royal Highnesses was piloted by Mr. David Ross, C.I.E., manager of the Sind, Punjab, and Delhi Railway.

THE despatch of the Secretary of State on the Ilbert Bill, which was received last week, pronounced a reference of the question to Parliament unnecessary, and the measure will therefore be proceeded with. The Viceroy is expected, the Calcutta correspondent of the Pioneer says, to make an announcement to that effect at the Legislative Council meeting to-day.

A TELEGRAM from the London correspondent of the Englishman, Nov. 30, says :—"The Times this morning publishes a letter from Mr. Atkins, in which he challenges Lord Kimberley to state publicly what he really said to him before his private secretary last week." This was already stated in a telegram forwarded to us by the Defence Association. Lord Kimberley ought to publish the shorthand-writer's notes of the conversation.

A TELEGRAM from Madras, Dec. 3, to an up-country paper, states :—"The Madras Ilbert Bill Committee has resolved that it is unable to accept as satisfactory the modifications which, it is now understood, Government is prepared to adopt. The Committee expresses a firm determination to refuse any form of compromise which does not admit the principle of the inherent right of Englishmen to trial by peers, and pledges itself to continued opposition. Its resolutions have been submitted to all the petitioners who signed the memorial early in this year."

A REPORT has reached Lahore that the Persian Envoy left Kabul on the 20th ultimo, with General Gholam Haidar Khan. Among the presents sent to the Shah by the Ameer is, it is stated, a hooka of gold, jewelled with diamonds.

THE Lahore paper says :—Information has been received from Pazzai spring, at the foot of the Takht-i-Suleiman, dated the 26th ult., that a body of 300 men, consisting of Khedazais, Mammerzais, and Ghazis, who had taken up a strong position higher up, were dislodged, with a loss to the enemy of some fifteen men. No loss is said to have been sustained on our side. On the 24th, when the camp was at Waz Danna, a mounted constable, who had separated himself from his companions, was killed. Communications are still regularly maintained. The expedition is expected to return shortly."

THE Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, in reviewing a report on dispensaries in the Province, expresses his great regret to learn that the subscriptions to medical institutions received from natives of the Punjab were, last year, discreditably small. Excepting a liberal donation of Rs. 5,000, given by the Maharajah of Kashmere to the Mayo Hospital at Lahore, and the contributions of the Native Chiefs to the Ripon Hospital at Simla, the local receipts, in the shape of native subscriptions, amounted to the insignificant sum of Rs. 4,988. In a country, says the official Resolution, where charity for the relief of paupers is proverbial, it seems astonishing that such niggardly contributions are made towards the support of institutions, the value of which is increasingly felt by all classes of the community. Government officials are enjoined to exercise their influence in this most legitimate direction.

THE following gentlemen have been elected Fellows of the University of the Punjab :—Khalifa Syed Mahomed Hasan ; Mahomed Husain, Assistant Surgeon ; Sirdar Sir Dewa Singh ; Maulvi Mahomed Husain ; Mr. T. W. Smyth, C. S. ; Dewan Anant Ram ; Mr. F. C. Channing, C.S. ; Mr. R. Dick, M.A. ; the Hon'ble W. W. Hunter, C.S.I. ; Dr. C. R. Stalpnagel ; Babu Brij Lal Ghose.

SAYS the Indian Daily News :—"It was reported in town on Saturday that the decision of the Foreign Missions Committee of the Kirk of Scotland at Edinburgh has been unfavourable to the Rev. Mr. Hastie, and that he receives a bonus of six months' pay on being relieved of the charge of the General Assembly's Institutions."

IN the month of August last 1,449 emigrants left the port of Calcutta, of whom 586 went to Demerara, 383 to Mauritius, and 480 to Surinam.

MR. M. W. SANDYS, Magistrate and Collector of the 1st grade in the North-West Provinces, has announced from England his intention of retiring from the service at the expiration of his furlough.

THE Session of the institution of Civil Engineers has just concluded, and the Council has issued the list of its premiums. These are 28 in number. This institution has recognised the value of Major Allan Cunningham's hydraulic experiments by awarding him both a medal and a money prize. Major Cunningham is connected with the Roorkee Civil Engineering College, and his hydraulic experiments have ranged over a series of years, and are probably the most complete attempt of their kind ever made.

MR. EVANS, missionary at Monghyr, some time since drew the attention of the Government of Bengal to the great increase of drunkenness amongst natives, which, he alleged, was mainly due to the out-still system. Mill operatives in particular were said to have given way to the vice to an alarming extent, and were constantly absent from their work. The Lieutenant-Governor made many inquiries into the subject during his recent tour, but no definite conclusions could be formed on such evidence as was forthcoming. For instance, at Hooghly and Serampore it was found that drunkenness was equally prevalent on both sides of the river, though on the west the distillery system was in force, and on the east out-stills were allowed. An Excise Commission has been appointed to thoroughly sift the whole matter, and Mr. J. Ware Edgar, C. S., the President, is in Calcutta, arranging for the meeting of the Commission, which will comprise Mr. H. R. Reily, Manager of the Chanchal Estate in Maldah ; Babu Obhoy Charan Dass, an Excise Deputy Collector ; and a native non official. Mr. Evans is of opinion that the native liquor made at the out-stills is adulterated so as to render it peculiarly deleterious, but three samples furnished by him have been analysed by the Public Analyst, and found to contain nothing that would justify the charge.

A RIVAL of Sir Moses Montefiore in point of vigorous antiquity has been found in the person of an Italian priest named Donal Malossini. He was ordained a priest on the 20th April, 1806, and has been exercising his calling ever since. During this period he has seen as many as seven Popes assume the Pontifical chair. The day on which he entered his 100th year, he went to the church and chanted mass.

THE Marquis of Lorne and Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise took home from Canada a collection of stuffed Canadian birds, consisting of five cases, which contain in all upwards of 94 specimens. The birds present a very handsome appearance, are naturally and artistically placed, and include the choicest varieties of the different species. All are found in Canadian woods and forests, and will form a pleasant souvenir of their Excellencies' stay in the dominion.

ACCORDING to the Berlin correspondent of the Standard, a Polish Nationalistic agitation is about to be organized in the Grand Duchy of Posen with the view of setting Russia against her Western neighbours. There is a degree of candour in this avowal of the purpose for which the movement is to be got up, the St. James's Gazette remarks, that one seldom meets with in conspiracies of the same kind. As a general rule, the founders of revolutionary societies, even though the ultimate object may not be kept secret, make a point nevertheless of concealing their methods of action. But in the new National Polish Association of Posen everything, it would seem, is to be done openly by professional agitation. We are even told what the agitator's salary is to be. He is to receive 6,000 marks (£300) a year ; and one must say that on such terms he will be overpaid. The national rights of the Poles, as secured them by the Treaty of Vienna, are more systematically violated in Posen than either in the Kingdom of Poland or in Galicia. In Galicia, indeed, the Poles do really enjoy the "constitutional representation and administration" promised by the treaty. But in the Grand Duchy of Posen the Polish language is absolutely banished from the public administration and from the higher classes in the public schools ; so that the society for the defence of Polish national rights will find it difficult not to come into collision, on more than one point, with the Prussian Government. If, indeed, the new Polish organization should really be established, the mere fact of its being tolerated will prove that it has the approval of Prince Bismarck ; and that he, as well as the paid agitator and the agitator's constituents, desires "a conflict between Russia and her Western neighbours."

SPEEDY relief from the competition of American wheat-growers may be looked forward to, if we may believe Professor Clifford Richardson, of the Washington Department of Agriculture, who declares that the grain of his country is rapidly deteriorating both in quality and quantity. An analysis of over two thousand specimens shows that, compared with European and other wheats, that grown in America is seriously deficient in albuminoids, the most nourishing of the component parts. The grain is poorest in the Eastern States, a regular gradation of improvement taking place, going westward till the Pacific Coast is approached, when, again, there is a marked falling-off in quality. Add to this the fact that the American wheat crop is steadily decreasing in quantity, and some idea can be formed of how rapidly the soil of the country is becoming exhausted by yearly grain-croping, shallow ploughing, and light manuring. California and the whole of the Eastern States have ceased to be great wheat-producing districts : the ground is worn out. The conclusion to which these facts point is obvious. If they are true, we are within measurable distance of the time when America will not be able to produce more than sufficient grain for her own great population ; and the supplies of wheat obtained by Europe from this source will have to be derived elsewhere. India should inherit a large share of the trade.

THE CALCUTTA INSULTS TO THE VICEROY.

THE Englishman, in its account of the Viceroy's reception at Calcutta, says :—"The route by the Strand, from Howrah to Government House, was lined by a chain of Calcutta Police, and a great throng of natives was assembled all along the roadside. The crowd here appeared to think that their presence was sufficient welcome for His Excellency, and refrained from any vocal demonstration. Groups of Europeans scattered among the crowd along the route, and especially near the neighbourhood of Government House, however, were not content with a silent reception, and hissed and groaned and gave vent to a variety of cries as His Excellency's carriage passed by. Government House is a guard of honour with band and colours of the Warwickshire Regiment, under Major Ramsbottom, was drawn up the grand stairs on the west, and on the east another guard of the Administrative Battalion Presidency Volunteers, under Major Nicolay. The parade strength of the Volunteers was, 163 cadets, 4 members Naval Volunteers, 10 members Mounted Company, 1 member A Company, 31 members F Company, 126 members of the Post Office Bengal Secretariat companies, and 34 men of the Eastern Bengal Railway Volunteers, making a total of 343. A large gathering of representatives of the official and native sections of Calcutta society, consisting of the Lieutenant-Governor, the members of Council, Judges of the High Court, Secretaries to Government and other officers, and native noblemen and gentlemen, were assembled on the grand stairs, but the European non-official community was completely absent. His Excellency the Viceroy was received on alighting with the usual honours, and after greeting the Lieutenant-Governor and one or two other gentlemen entered Government House. The company then gradually dispersed. The Volunteers, both on entering and leaving the gates of Government House, were loudly hissed by Europeans assembled outside.

In the native portions of the town displayed an abundant show of illaminations, and there was a copious discharge of fireworks in the same quarter. Small placards had also been posted about with mottoes of welcome to the Viceroy.

The Indian Daily News says :—

This long-looked-forward-to event took place on Saturday morning amidst a marked and most unusual and, we may add, scarcely impressive excitement. One of the first points of interest was the forming up of the Calcutta Volunteers near the Ochterlony monument ; and, moreover, that was watched by a large concourse of people both on foot and on horseback. The Mounted Company, under Captain Handley, B.C.S., were represented by four files and the Sergeant Instructor. Of the eight men present, five were officials, and two young gentlemen from the well-known firm of Gillanders Arbuthnot and Co. The Naval Artillery Company, under Captain Brebner, I. N., was represented by three Privates from the Marine Department and Reuter's Agent. The Infantry mustered some 120 strong, and included a small company from the Eastern Bengal Railway, large companies from the Secretariat and Cadet Corps, and a few others that were massed under the command of Captain Liddle. The whole force shortly before eight o'clock marched to Government House under the command of Major Nicolay. On the steps of Government House a considerable concourse of officials and Native gentlemen were assembled.

The non-official European community were represented by Mr. A. W. Chapman, of Messrs. Piggott Chapman and Co., and Mr. D. J. Zemin, of Messrs. Arlington and Company.

Afterwards there was also a very strong muster of natives, some from Howrah and Seebpore and others from Calcutta and the Suburbs, 200 amongst whom held flags and bannerets with the words,

"Long live our noble Viceroy," "Liberty of the Press," "Long live Lord Ripon," "Welcome to Lord and Lady Ripon," "May his administration last long," "Truth will triumph," "Queen's proclamation upheld," "Local Self-Government." These raised shouts of applause when the Viceroy and Lady Ripon got into their carriage. Both sides of the road on the Howrah side of the Bridge to the station-house were lined with the Bengal Police to preserve order ; and from the road leading from the Bridge to the Western Gate of the Government House were stationed the Calcutta Police. The Viceroy, on alighting, shook hands with many of those present ; and after a stay of a few minutes, His Excellency and Lady Ripon were conducted to the carriage in waiting, and driven off to Government House.

The concourse of natives from the compound of the Howrah station-house to near the Bridge was very great, and such as we do not remember to have ever witnessed on the arrival or departure of any Viceroy. The crowd of natives on the Calcutta side of the Bridge was equally great. The things which attracted most notice was that the house fronting the Bridge was nicely done up for the occasion, from which garlands of flowers were showered at the Viceroy's carriage when it passed. Bengalee music was played, songs in praise of the Viceroy were sung, and shouts of applause raised. Conch shells were also blown by some.

The Indian Daily News discreetly omits from its report all reference to the "hissing and howling" described by the Englishman, though it incidentally alludes to it in a leader justifying the demonstration on the ground that Lord Ripon is the Prime Minister of India!

THE Pioneer remarks :—"The spectacle presented by Calcutta at this moment is not good unto edifying. We see the weight and intelligence of a large, powerful and prosperous community abdicating its public duties and drawn in the train of a more demonstrative but less responsible, and not too discriminating majority, with its host of unreasoning or half reluctant followers. It is the old story : the ball is wrenched from the hand. Not stick to their colours long after confidence in their leaders has been shaken, for lack of moral courage to seem to abandon a cause, the success of which they have still closely at heart. And this, if we are not altogether at fault, is virtually the state of things in Bengal. We write with competent knowledge of a widespread European opinion out of Calcutta when we declare that the sentiment of the vast majority as regards the attitude prevailing there towards the heads of the Government is one of dissent fast deepening into disgust. The Defence Association is in danger of damning the defence. And the effect upon many poorer classes of the feel decorously is that those who were foremost in arraigning the Viceroy in respect of his policy are drawn to espouse him out of sympathy with the man. Will the Englishman tell the world exactly what the Opposition expects or requires? If it be the settlement of the controversy by Parliament, it is already known that the Government is anxious to yield that, for the Opposition, fatal demand. But there is a greater than the Government of India and the greater refuses to consent. If the Opposition requires the absolute withdrawal of any form of Ilbert Bill whatsoever, then it is clamouring idly for what every sensible man now knows there is not a last faint hope of obtaining. Are matters to come to a deadlock? Are we to give no thought to the country we live in and its perils? The thing to be remembered, said the Duke of Wellington, on another momentous occasion, is :—How to carry on the Queen's government. Is there no danger that her government in India may be brought to a deadlock, compelled to march on in spite of its opponents? It has been suggested that the Viceroy should send for the heads of the Defence Association and with them discuss the situation, but so long as there is this ostentatious abnegation of the outward forms of respect and courtesy due imperatively from every loyal Englishman to the representative of imperial authority, the adoption of such a hopeful and conciliatory expedient would seem impossible."

The Englishman also has a leading article on the subject, from which we extract the following passage :—"His Excellency the Viceroy arrived in Calcutta on Saturday, and we venture to say that no Viceroy ever entered the capital of India under circumstances similar to those which marked his reception by the European community. Not only was the European non-official community almost completely without representatives at Howrah and at Government House to receive him, and the few Volunteers who did turn out were chiefly officers' servants or schoolboys, but his Lordship entered Calcutta amid the marks of disapprobation of the Europeans who gathered in the streets to witness his arrival. Much as this is to be deplored by the staunchest opponents of His Excellency's unhappy and unwise attitude in regard to the Criminal Code Procedure Amendment Bill, we are compelled to place on record the fact that an English Viceroy has been hissed and howled at by Englishmen in the sight and hearing of natives who had come to do him honour. Those who were present at the Scotch dinner, on Friday evening, and heard the slight hisses quickly suppressed by the better sense of the meeting which greeted the name of the Viceroy, and saw the great gathering of Scotchmen and their guests, with insignificantly few exceptions, refuse to drink the toast with an uproarious clamour, has been received with an acclamation second only to that of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen, were prepared in some measure for the distinctly hostile reception which has greeted his Lordship in Calcutta, but the public demonstration on the return of the Viceroy to Calcutta are to be deplored for many reasons, and we hope, for the good name of the community, there will be no repetition of them. We are being daily told by Europeans that his advisers are wholly to blame for all that occurred at the Scotch dinner and at his arrival in Calcutta." We have been reprobated for making use of strong language during the course of this controversy over the Ilbert Bill. We have in public condemned in such quarters for admitting letters to our columns which lashed unmercifully the supporters of the Bill, and which exposed the fallacies on which the measure has been based, but the storm of spontaneous and indignant letters which has flowed through our columns since March, there has been a deeper and a more virulent stream consigned to the waste-paper basket.

THE RECENT AKA RAID.

NOV. 24.

IN my letter of the 14th instant, I omitted to mention that the raid was led by an Aka named Chandi, who some three years ago was semi-educated in the Tezpur and Balipara Government schools, and is a brother of the present Raja, Medhi. No further raiding has as yet taken place, although reports of Akas being seen about are rife enough, causing uneasiness to those whose gardens lie along the frontier, and a constant source of dread to the coolies for cutting tea, who, within half a mile of the Rangers' bungalow, a coolie house caught fire ; a cry arose in the lines that Akas had done it and were looting ; but immediately every man, woman and child set some huddling with their traps into the tea bushes, others taking to the jungle. The assistant in charge, on arriving at the scene, found only the chowkidars and a few women ready to assist him in quenching the fire, the men (little more than boys in such cases) being conspicuous by their absence. In many gardens I could mention coolies have slept for nights in the jungle, or the tea, with their household effects by them ready for instant flight. The result of this feeling of insecurity will tell most heavily against planters when agreements come to be renewed.

That the raid was a premeditated one is now placed beyond all doubt. The mere fact of their carrying pangies (which they have never been known to do before) showed plainly they meant mischief which would entail pursuit. Again, they came down to the path, not through the jungle, which from its appearance had evidently been prepared some days previous to enable them to accomplish their journey to and from the plains without delay.

The abduction of the Forest Ranger and clerk was not altogether the first sign of hostility for about six weeks ago the Balipara Mouzadar (Lakhidar) who is, by the way, an Honorary Magistrate, went on a visit to the Akka Rajah, accompanied by twelve villagers, to obtain "curios" for the Calcutta Exhibition. I may mention that two of the villagers who accompanied him were Gaon Buras, (or headmen) who had on several previous occasions visited the Aka Raja. On their arrival they were received with great cordiality, and treated to the usual "amsaha," which signifies a native welcome, the Raja telling the Mouzadar that it would take him some five days to collect the articles which he wished to give him. At the end of the days specified, in the place of the presents, a large body of Abors (outside tribes) appeared on the scene, and a conference was held, at which Lakhidar and his followers were present. The Mouzadar was then and there accused of being instrumental to the settlement of a boundary question which occurred in years gone by, after which, without further parley, the meeting was brought to an abrupt conclusion by the Aka Raja rising and entering his house. Lakhidar was then seized by the Abors and hurried away with his unfortunate followers, who, on accompanying him, his followers being marched off in a different direction by the Akas, this being the last they heard or saw of Lakhidar. The villagers were now detained for several days by the Aka Chief, during which time they observed the disappearance of several members of the tribe, and on inquiry as to their whereabouts were informed that they had gone on a hunting expedition, which in truth they had, but it was after different game than that the Akas led them to believe, the missing ones being engaged in the raid before mentioned. After being kept sufficient time to allow the raiders to return to their own domain, they were allowed to depart under an escort of five Akas, who ferried them over the Borelli on a raft, and accompanied them some distance on their homeward journey.

Previous to their departure the two headmen were asked by the Aka Raja to inform the Deputy Commissioner that they wished to effect a compromise, either to enhance their pension, or black mail, or to give up to them certain lands lying between the plains and the hills, requesting that they would meet him with a reply, on the 5th December next, at Diju Mukh, a point within a few miles of the recognised Aka boundary. For the future safety of the district it is to be hoped that neither of these concessions will be granted, and that, instead, they will receive a lesson which will show them that Government are not to be browbeaten into granting requests which have neither necessity nor reason on their side. So far, believe, the local authorities have judiciously demanded the release of the captives, and in case of refusal, police are being concentrated at Balipara hât, where rice and other stores are being collected, and from where a road is being rapidly cut towards the hill. The work is being carried out under the able supervision of our District Superintendent of Police, Mr. Savi, who is pushing on matters with his usual activity.—Englishman's Correspondent.

THE CHANDA RAILWAY SCHEME.

THE following letter signed "A Mahomedan" and purporting to be written in Bombay—which if true makes it rather surprising that the letter was not sent to us direct rather than to a paper in Calcutta—has been published in the Statesman.

"Sir,—In to-day's Bombay Gazette I read a leader, criticising Mr. Keay's memorial to the Viceroy on the Chanda Railway scheme. That leader lays great stress on Sir Salar Jung's supposed approval of the scheme. I have carefully read the papers on the subject, and the conclusion I have come to is that Sir Salar Jung, while anxious to see the construction of the railway, totally disapproved of the Loan scheme. As Sir Salar's views regarding it have been much misrepresented by interested men, I think it would be advisable to publish a very literal English translation of his able minutes on the subject. If his Excellency the Viceroy cares to find out the real truth, a strict enquiry ought to be instituted as to—

1. Whether the loan scheme did not originate with a Presidency official.

2. Whether he did not have it submitted to the Nizam's Government through Mr. Abdul Hup.

3. Whether the Peshkar was not heard to say that he was pressed by this official to sanction the scheme.

4. Whether copy of a letter by Sir Owen Burne on the loan scheme was not sent by Mr. Jones to Sir Salar Jung : and whether this did not have the effect of frightening him.

5. Whether a greater amount of caution is not observable in Sir Salar Jung's language, from the time he received this letter.

The cautious language of his minutes has given the promoters of the Loan scheme an opportunity of misrepresenting facts. Let those who care to ascertain Sir Salar Jung's views on the subject read his minutes for themselves, and draw their own conclusions. Much curiosity is felt as to the contents of the letter I have alluded to, and if it be not unnecessarily compromising to anybody, I should like to see it published.

The writer of the leader concluded by saying, that "it is a delusion to suppose that the scheme has been pressed upon the Hyderabad State by the Government of India." Here I perfectly agree with him. I am not aware that any of those who opposed the Loan Scheme ever brought any such charge against the Government of India. This was one of the numerous false charges cunningly brought by the promoters of the scheme against their opponents, to brand them with the stigma of disloyalty, and thus to get rid of their opposition.

As regards the Council of Regency, it is now pretty clearly established that of the three members composing it, two are totally unfit for any kind of work. Their opinion therefore on no subject deserves the serious consideration of any sensible man. The only member who has had more than 15 years' experience of state affairs entered a strong protest against the Loan scheme."

To this letter the Editor of the Statesman appends the following.

NOTE.—We tell H. E. the Viceroy to trust this letter. We have the strongest reason to believe Sir Salar Jung did not approve the Loan scheme.—ED., S.

He has succeeded in collecting some eighteen horses and a tolerably large number of equestrians, with the necessary paraphernalia of a circus company—not only men, but also dogs and monkeys, the latter of which have been "educated" to imitate the tricks of the former, and take a part in the performances. Acrobatic and gymnastic exercises are excluded, because the proprietor says he has not means enough to award adequate compensation to the relatives of a member of the company who may possibly sustain fatal injuries while going through such exercises. Upon the whole, the effort of Mr. Vishnoo Punt in forming an indigenous circus company upon the model of European artistes is entitled to encouragement.

THE KIRKEE AMMUNITION FACTORY.—The Kirkee Factory has managed to get so bad a name that complaints are readily forthcoming about any ammunition that it issues. But the reputation, it may be hoped, will be to some extent rehabilitated by the report of the Special Committee which under the orders of the Government of India was lately appointed to inquire into the complaints recently made at the Factory. After a series of searching proofs lasting over a period of five weeks the Committee have come to the conclusion that the ammunition in question is thoroughly sound and serviceable, and the verdict has been endorsed by the Woolwich authorities to whom it was also submitted. The Bombay Army will therefore have the satisfaction of knowing that, whatever the defects of the past, the powder and shot now supplied to them are good as can be made anywhere ; and if the shooting should be bad, officers will at last be saved from the unsatisfactory idea that defective materials may be at the bottom of the matter.—Pioneer.

APPEALS AGAINST MUNICIPAL ASSESSMENTS.

YESTERDAY, at the Fort Police Court, before Mr. C. P. Cooper, the appeal of Mr. Monmohundas Davidas against the municipal assessment levied on his property was called on for hearing. Mr. Balkrishna, of the firm of Messrs. Balkrishna and Bhugwandas, appeared for the appellant, and Mr. Crawford, of Messrs. Crawford and Boevey, for the Municipality. Mr. Crawford urged that the appeal could not be sustained under section 128 of the Municipal Act, as it was made before the property had been actually assessed and on a mere supposition. Mr. Balkrishna held that his client was justified in instituting the appeal, as he was fully informed of the amount his property was to be assessed at by the Municipal Assessor. The Magistrate adjourned the hearing of the appeal to the 12th instant.

The appeal of Jalbhoy Ardaseer Sett, in respect of the assessment of his property in the Fort, Gunbow-lane, was next called on. Mr. Lang, instructed by Mr. Pestonjee Cowasjee, solicitor, appeared for the appellant, and Mr. Crawford for the Municipality. Mr. Lang said that this property, known as Manockjee Sett's Wadi, was assessed at the collective value of Rs. 800. This he contended was illegal under section 77 of the Municipal Act, as the property was devoted to religious charitable purposes. The will of the late Manockjee, in which this property was willed, was then read by the learned counsel and a letter to the Municipal Commissioner, giving the particulars regarding the property was also read. Mr. Lang further contended that the term charity in the Municipal Act was not to be taken as it is generally in the bye community but in the wider sense as accepted in several Acts of Parliament and in the High Courts of Indicature both in England and in India. The bequest was a public charity inasmuch as it relieved the middle and poorer classes of the Parsee community of certain expenses which would otherwise fall upon them, consequent on certain ceremonies which as Parsees it was compulsory for them to perform.

Mr. Sorabjee Shapoorjee Bengali and Mr. Shapoorjee Framjee, the manager of the Manockjee Sett's Wadi, were called by Mr. Lang and examined.

Mr. Crawford contended that the Wadi, being used for divers kinds of festivities and public meetings, was not exclusively for religious or charitable purposes, and could not consequently be exempted from assessment.

Mr. Lang having replied, his worship reserved judgment in the matter till Wednesday next, the 12th instant.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE
THE ORIGINAL and ONLY GENUINE.

ADVICE TO INVALIDS.—If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.
CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.
CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.
CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.
CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880, to T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell-street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery. Spasms, Cramps, Neuralagia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have come under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is DELIBERATE BREACH OF FAITH ON THE PART OF THE CHEMIST TO PRESCRIBER AND PATIENT ALIKE. We are, sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.
CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the undoubted, the Inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.
Sold in bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
CAUTION.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.
Sole Manufacturer—J. T. DAVENPORT,
33 Great Russel-street, Bloomsbury, London.

CONCENTRATED GUTTÆ VITÆ OR VEGETABLE LIFE DROPS.

THE alchemists of old spent years in endeavouring to find out the means of transmuting the baser metals into gold, but in vain. It was, however, reserved for a physician of the 19th Century to make a far more valuable discovery in occult science—the result of deep research into the arcana of Nature's mysteries—which is here offered to the World and the pleasing results of a quarter of a century, during which time this wonderful medicine has been tried in every quarter of the globe, all conforms the truth of the saying of the ancients hopes. Thousands of voluntary testimonials from grateful patients, testify to the fact that from this remarkable tonic alone, new life has been imparted to numbers of debilitated individuals; and it is not too much to say that hundreds of persons are at the present day in full enjoyment of their mental and bodily powers—in thorough good health—who previously were confirmed hypochondriacs, had been given up by their medical advisers and left to drag out the remainder of their existence a misery to themselves, and a continual anxiety to their friends.
This great life-reviving medicine gives vitality and strength to the most shattered constitutions. It not only strengthens the system but purifies the blood, and promotes a healthy circulation of the fluids, thus imparting strength and tone to the nerves, enlivening and invigorating both body and mind. It greatly improves the appetite and restores the digestive powers, whilst for dyspeptic persons it is unrivalled. Those who (from long residence in hot climates) suffer from langour and relaxation, as also all persons going to reside in India, should at once provide themselves with this important article of health.
Youth and age equally participate in the miraculous effects of this wondrous medicine for whether the body be debilitated in early life, or sinking under the advance of years, a few doses will speedily afford assurance of returning health, by giving tone to the muscular and nervous systems, and through the organs of digestion, renovating the whole constitution. To the young it affords health, strength, and spirits, in place of lassitude and debility; while to the aged and infirm it assuredly furnishes great relief and comfort, by gently and safely invigorating the whole corporeal frame; and although age is not put forward as imparting immortality, it will certainly gild the autumn of declining years, and, in all cases, calmly and serenely protract the close of life. For females of all ages, as also for delicate children who cannot take cod-liver oil, the Guttæ Vitæ will be found a great boon—being far superior in its strengthening properties, and at the same time so pleasant to the palate that it can hardly be called a medicine. To married persons, especially, this preparation will prove invaluable; giving strength and vigour in place of lassitude and incapacity for exertion. Price, 11s. and 33s. per bottle. The large size contains sufficient for four weeks.

PAINS IN THE BACK, GRAVEL, LUMBAGO, RHEUMATISM, GOUT, DISEASES OF THE KIDNEY AND BLADDER, STRICTURES, &c.
COMPOUND RENAL PILLS

Are justly celebrated all over the world as the most safe and speedy remedy for the above dangerous complaints. Discharges of any kind, Stone in the Bladder, and diseases of the Kidney and Urinary Organs generally.
These celebrated Pills are an infallible remedy in the most obstinate cases. By their use alone many thousands are annually restored to health, the agonies of gout and rheumatism may now be considered a voluntary affliction, as noone need suffer these excruciating tormente if they will only have recourse to these Pills, which are confidently recommended by the proprietor as the only real specific; whilst for weakness across the loins, sandy or other deposit in the water, and in all cases of renal or urinary disturbance, they are, indeed, unrivalled. They correct acidity of the stomach, promote the functions of the liver and kidneys, thereby preventing stone in the bladder, &c. Many complaints, long supposed to be nervous, often arise solely from contamination of the blood with certain impurities which should have been carried off by the kidneys. Thousands of testimonials from grateful patients attest their marvellous efficacy. In packages, 1s, 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s., and 33s.

THE MOST WONDERFUL PILLS IN THE WORLD.
